Where can I get the keys, and how can I use them? Launch KMSpico and then select the New window (file name would be "All Keys [3]") A: Why is a key generator needed? KMSpico will generate a new key for you. While it says it is a Windows only product there is a feature for keys from multiple operating systems. You can get more info from here Where can I get the keys, and how can I use them? KMSpico will generate a new key for you. While it says it is a Windows only product there is a feature for keys from multiple operating systems. You can get more info from here What is the difference between the Install Key and Activation Key? On the License agreement screen you can choose between: Activation Key: Activate this version for 1 year from the date of purchase and use the product on 1 computer, 1 user. Install Key: Activate the product immediately, use on 1 computer, 1 user The difference between the two is the number of uses allowed on the same computer. An activation key will only allow you to use the software on one computer. An Install key allows you to use it on the same computer for as long as you want. Q: Get the difference between two dates in MongoDB I have two dates in a collection, date1 and date2, and I would like to get the difference in days between them. The expected result is 45, which means : date1 : '2016-12-20' date2 : '2016-12-19' In fact, I'm doing this : await DB.Collection('user_activity').find({ , { date: { $gt: date1 }, date: { $lt: date2 } }).sort({date: 1}) .limit(1) .next((err, docs) => { ... }) .
