We describe a case of severe pulmonary dysfunction after liver transplantation in a 13-year-old child associated with erythromycin therapy. Standard treatment, consisting of high-dose steroids and intravenous cyclophosphamide, was administered, but unfortunately the patient died 48 hours after the onset of respiratory symptoms. No other immunosuppression changes in this protocol were introduced.Evolution of Theory of Mind: A Genetic Perspective. In the present report, we explore the idea that a significant proportion of the differences in the ability of cognitively modern humans to understand the minds of others is due to the recent evolution of self-consciousness during the Upper Palaeolithic. We integrate this proposal with earlier work on the evolution of theory of mind, showing how a recursive system of mental simulations for cognitively modern humans provides a modular strategy for understanding the minds of other agents.You are here Home » Elected Officials Condemn Todd Akin Elected Officials Condemn Todd Akin On Tuesday, five Missouri state representatives and two state senators, all Democrats, sent a letter to Todd Akin and the candidates he endorsed that said that if Akin were elected, "there would be no forgiveness." Akin is running for Senator from Missouri, a seat currently held by Missouri's Republican Claire McCaskill. The group of nine state representatives wrote that Akin's views on women, rape, and rape victims, "are contrary to the values of Missourians and those of the Democratic Party and its leadership." "We can unequivocally state, we do not believe Missourians would elect a candidate who would support
